HOMAZOOMA!

NEAT SITE

CONNECT WITH REAL ESTATE AGENTS AND CRUNCH NUMBERS ANONYMOUSLY

In the age of Internet overload, overlooking a new home site is easy. Don't make that mistake with Homazooma.com. Created to give consumers privacy and control over their real estate needs and financial planning, Homazooma.com is all about empowering Canadians. The free public resource has no industry biases or affiliations and provides its members with calculation tools and expertise to make choices about homeownership anonymously. In addition to browsing (or posting) real estate or crunching numbers, members can solicit the advice of as many real estate and financial professionals as they wish without having to reveal their identities. The site also allows real estate agents, financial planners and mortgage professionals to connect with potential clients. National Post
